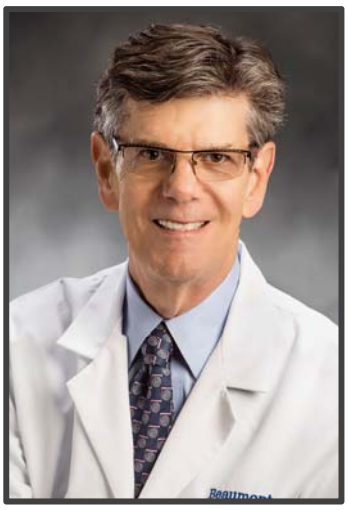
Malcolm Henoch, M.D., MBA

Senior Vice President & Associate Chief Medical Officer,
Acute Care

Beaumont



Malcolm Henoch, M.D. is senior vice president and associate chief medical officer, acute care at Beaumont Health, Michigan's largest health care system, based on inpatient admissions and net patient revenue.

In this role, Dr. Henoch is responsible for promoting excellence in clinical care at all Beaumont Health acute care hospitals. He comes to Beaumont Health from Oakwood Healthcare, where he served as senior vice president and chief medical officer. He has provided executive leadership in clinical and medical staff affairs, graduate medical education, clinical strategic direction, and physician leadership development. He has also been chairman of Oakwood Physicians, providing leadership in the governance of that physician group practice.

He is a member of the Beaumont Health board and is chairman of Oakwood Assurance Corporation.

Prior to his position with Oakwood, Dr. Henoch served as president and CEO of University Mednet, a large multi-specialty physician group operating as a unit of University Hospitals Health System in Cleveland, Ohio.

Board certified in gastroenterology and internal medicine, Dr. Henoch holds a Master of Business Administration from Case Western Reserve University and a Doctor of Medicine from the University of Maryland.
