President

Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak

Beaumont

Daniel Carey, MD, MCHM, is president of Corewell Health's Royal Oak acute care campus. He is responsible for strategy development, daily operations and financial performance of the 1,101 bed, full-service community campus, including the laboratory, as well as ambulatory, diagnostic and surgery centers.

Dr. Carey has served in many health care leadership roles throughout his career and spent more than two decades as a cardiologist in Lynchburg, Virginia. Appointed by the governor, he served as Virginia's Secretary of Health and Human Resources from January 2018 to November 2021, leading Virginia's pandemic response.

He then joined Providence, where he was senior vice president and chief medical officer of the Physician Enterprise.

Previously, he served as senior vice president and chief medical officer of Centra and oversaw information technology services, quality and safety, performance improvement initiatives and medical staff functions at Centra's acute care facilities.

Dr. Carey has also served as the president of the Lynchburg Academy of Medicine, the Medical Society of Virginia and the Medical Society of Virginia's Foundation.

He earned his bachelor's in political and social thought from the University of Virginia, his medical degree from Harvard Medical School and a master's in Health Care Management from the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health.
