

Ed Hardin

Senior Vice President, Supply Chain Management

Beaumont

Ed Hardin is senior vice president of Supply Chain Management at Beaumont Health, Michigan's largest health care system based on inpatient admissions and net patient revenue.

In this role, Hardin oversees contracting, purchasing, value analysis, inventory management, distribution, transportation, records management, shipping and receiving, supply chain analytics and mail services. He joined Beaumont Health in 2016, having previously served as system vice president of Supply Chain Management for CHRISTUS Health, Inc., a $6.2 billion multi-national health care provider with locations in the United States and Latin America. Prior to CHRISTUS Health, he served as vice president for Resource Optimization & Innovation, the supply chain division of Mercy in St. Louis, Missouri. His more than 20-year career in supply chain performance and management solutions also includes consulting positions at Alvarez & Marsal, Deloitte & Touche and Ernst & Young. He remains an adjunct instructor with the Satish & Yasmin Gupta College of Business of the University of Dallas.

Hardin is a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives and a Certified Materials & Resource Professional for the Association for Healthcare Resource & Materials Management. He was elected to the national board of AHRMM to begin a three-year term in January 2017. A strong advocate of his profession, he serves on several other industry boards and is a frequent presenter at national events.

Hardin earned his master's degree in health care administration from Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis and his bachelor's degree from Westminster College in Fulton, Missouri.
