

ONLINE RESOURCES

- Online Journals -- E-journals may be accessed by selecting Beaumont-Dearborn Journal List from the “Books & Journals” drop-down menu on the library’s home page. This resource provides access to more than 10,000 online journals, including non-medical titles, via several databases. Many of these journals are accessible only from Beaumont facilities.
- Online Books -- E-books can be accessed via the e-BOOKS BY SUBJECT on the library homepage. You can also search for e-books in the Library Catalog located under the “Books & Journals” drop-down menu.
- AccessMedicine** -- Provides access to about 80 medical texts (including Harrison's Principles of Internal Medicine), thousands of images, interactive self-assessment, case files, diagnostic tools, and a comprehensive search platform.
- CINAHL PLUS with FULL TEXT (Cumulative Index of Nursing and Allied Health Literature)** -- The world's most comprehensive nursing & allied health research database, provides indexing for more than 5,000 journals, dating back to 1937. The full text for more than 760 journals, 275 books/monographs, 130 Evidence-Based Care Sheets and nearly 170 Quick Lessons is included.
- ClinicalKey** -- ClinicalKey is a clinical search engine providing health professionals with access to current medical literature, including journals, e-books, videos, practice guidelines, and patient education handouts. ClinicalKey includes access to hundreds of journals and over a thousand e-books. Contact the library to set up remote access, which will allow you to use the site from your home computer or mobile device.
- Cochrane Databases / Cochrane Library** This suite of databases contain high-quality, independent evidence to facilitate health care decision-making. It includes: Cochrane Central Register of Controlled Trials, Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews, Database of Abstracts of Reviews of Effects (DARE), Cochrane Methodology Register, Health Technology Assessments Database, and NHS Economic Evaluation Database.
- Micromedex** -- Provides quick access to information on diseases, toxicology, and drugs. It includes features to assist with drug comparison, drug identification, therapeutic class searching, and dosing. Helpful laboratory tools and conversion calculators are also available within this resource.
- Nursing Reference Center** -- A comprehensive reference tool designed to provide relevant clinical resources for nurses and other health care professionals, directly at the point-of-care. It offers the best available and most recent clinical evidence from thousands of full-text documents. Features include: Evidence-Based Care Sheets, nursing skills and skill competency checklists, CE modules, patient education handouts, and best practice guidelines.
- PubMed** --An online database from the National Library of Medicine that provides access to millions of citations in the Medline database and other life science journals and online books. PubMed covers the fields of biomedicine, health, life sciences, behavioral sciences, chemical sciences, and bioengineering. By using the link on the library website you will be able to access Beaumont-Dearborn’s e-journals directly from Pubmed.
- STAT!Ref** -- Provides access to the full text of over 40 nursing and medical reference books. Additional tools include Stedman’s Medical Dictionary, MedCalc 3000 (an array of medical formulae, clinical criteria sets and decision tree analysis tools), ICD-10 and ACP’s PIER, a point-of-care decision support tool consisting of over 400 evidence-based modules.

LITERATURE SEARCH SERVICES

- Mediated literature searches, by librarians, are available for Beaumont-related search topics. Most searches are completed within 24 hours. Clinical emergencies/urgent requests receive immediate attention. Search requests can be made by email to medlibrary@beaumont.org, and by phone or fax.
- Librarians are available to assist with searching databases to locate information for CAP or school projects.
- Automatic Monthly Update -- If you have an ongoing research interest, we can store your literature search and have it run on a monthly basis against the new citations being loaded into the database. Therefore, you get a list of the newly published articles on your topic.
