

Hazard Communications Quiz

You have the right to know about:

- Any chemical you work with
- Your co-workers' ages who use chemicals
- Where chemicals are kept.

A Safety Data Sheet (SDS) provides you with:

- The chemical manufacturer's name and address
- What to do in case of an emergency
- Chemical disposal information
- All of the above.

Personal Protective Equipment includes:

- Hand and eye protection
- Hand, eye, protective clothing and respiratory protection
- Just respiratory protection

If you transfer a chemical from a labeled container to a secondary container you must:

- Keep the unlabeled container in a locked cabinet
- Label the container with the chemical's identity and other key warning word
- Place the container underneath the sink
- None of the above

The only way a chemical can enter the body is if I drink it.

- True
- False

The longer the chemical exposure, the more likely you will be come affected.

- True
- False

If working with a hazardous Chemical and you are in doubt of what to do:

- Contact the manufacturer listed on the SDS
- Ask your supervisor
- Ask your co-worker